

Senate Passes Tocks Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed a $4.5 billion public works appropriation bill Monday.

The bill, which is now scheduled for conference with the House, calls for $1,123,265,000 for Army engineer flood control and navigation projects, including 42 new construction starts, and $356,223,200 for reclamation bureau projects.

Projects approved originally by the House included:

Planning — Tocks Island Reservoir, Pa., and N. J. $250,000.

U.S. Rep. Green Seriously Ill

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rep. William J. Green Jr., D-Pa., long a political power in Pennsylvania, was reported to be seriously ill Monday—but holding his own — after emergency surgery for peritonitis. Peritonitis is an inflammation of the abdominal lining.

Dr. Irvin H. Breslow, Green's physician, said his patient's condition was aggravated by complications involving the gall bladder and pancreas.

Galvao Attacks Portugal At UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Capt. Henrique Galvao dramatically defied a threat of arrest Monday and came to the United Nations to denounce the Portuguese government's policy in Africa.

The 68-year-old former army captain who led a band of rebels in hijacking the liner Santa Maria in 1961 arrived in New York by plane from Brazil to appear before the U.N. Assembly's trusteeship committee. Portugal served formal notice on the U.S. State Department that it sought Galvao's extradition.

He charged that Portugal's Premier Antonio Oliveira Salazar had instituted a policy of racism in Africa and added that there could be no change until Salazar is removed from power.

Cuban Sub Base Supplies Rebels

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Submarines from a well protected base off Cuba's Isle of Pines whisk arms into Venezuela, the Dominican Republic and other Caribbean countries, the Cuban Revolutionary Council told the Organization of American States Monday.

The anti-Castro organization, citing diplomatic and underground sources, added in a telegram to an OAS investigating committee that "fishing trawlers" and planes also deliver subversion weapons from Cuba. "The Cuban Communist regime uses a Soviet submarine flotilla to transport arms, subversive agents and Communist propaganda" to Caribbean countries, the council told the committee investigating Venezuelan charges of Castro weapon shipments.

House Passes Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Monday passed a $3.6-billion foreign-aid authorization bill that includes authority for the President to extend controversial most-favored-nation status to Red Poland and Yugoslavia.

The measure, a compromise of the House and Senate versions, was approved 195-164. It goes now to the Senate for final action scheduled Tuesday.

Education Bills Called 'Assured'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Early passage of two major education bills appears assured after the settlement Monday of major disagreements over a broad vocational education program.

Agreement on this bill would clear the way for action on a $1.2-billion college-aid measure which has been held up in the Senate pending settlement of the vocational dispute.

Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Studebaker dominated trading Monday in a stock market which continued an irregular decline in moderate trading.

The Dow Jones industrial average was down 1.17 at 759.08. Volume was 444 million shares compared with 483 million Friday.

Bolivian Reds Give Ultimatum

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Communist-led tin miners holding four U.S. citizens and 17 other persons hostage Monday demanded that the Bolivian government release two jailed Communist leaders by Tuesday or "suffer the consequences."

The ultimatum raised fears for the safety of the hostages in a deepening crisis that threatens armed conflict between government troops and the miner-led forces of Vice President Juan Lechin, a leftist who has broken with President Victor Paz Estenssoro.

Five of Bolivia's 25 nationalized tin mines were reported in the hands of the anti-government miners. In the mining town of Eruro, 4,000 miners marched through the streets shouting "to the wall" (firing squad) with Paz Estenssoro. The government concentrated 3,000 troops in the Oruro region, 30 miles north of Catavi, mining center where the Americans, three Canadians, a West German, a Dutch mine manager and a dozen Bolivian technicians were held.

(In Ottawa, Canada's Foreign Secretary Paul Martin told the House of Commons that a fourth Canadian, Robert Morrison of Ottawa, had been released after having been held among the hostages. Martin identified him as a geologist working with a United Nations technical assistance group.

Lechin was reported to have set up headquarters at Catavi, 155 miles southeast of La Paz.

The miners defied the heavy troop buildup and a pledge to Bolivia from President Lyndon B. Johnson of full U.S. assistance in efforts to obtain the release of the hostages.

The miners did not spell out what they would do if the government did not release the two Communist leaders Tuesday.

Reds Reveal $46 Billion 7-Year Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev promised Monday to fulfill the Soviet people's dreams of more food and consumer goods by pouring enormous investments into the chemical industry.

Khrushchev assured hard-pressed Russians that the decades of deprivation necessary for building heavy industry are at an end and the time has come to satisfy the needs of the people.

He announced plans for sinking more than $46.6 billion into developing the chemical industry under a new seven-year plan. Major attention will be given to chemical fertilizer for faltering agriculture.

The premier conceded that the Soviet Union would have to seek much of the equipment and know-how for the new chemical complex in the West. But he warned Western businessmen against trying to squeeze "fabulous profits" out of the Soviet Union.

"We shall place orders with those who want to make an honest profit, provided there are credits, because this has become the norm of economic relations," he said.

He lashed out at "the malicious fever that has gripped our enemies" following this year's catastrophic crop failure. He denounced "the most reactionary and embittered enemies of socialism" as former German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the like.

"They gloat over the fact that the Soviet Union has had an adverse agricultural year and therefore allegedly one can present political demands to it and take it by the throat," he said.

Court Backs Rail Merger, Hits Scalping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approval of a major railroad takeover, several setbacks for labor unions and a clampdown on "scalping" in the stock market Monday marked the Supreme Court's decision Monday.

In 10 unsigned words that gave no explanation, the justices unanimously affirmed the Interstate Commerce Commission's decision to let the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad take control of the Baltimore & Ohio. It was the first time the high tribunal has touched directly on the recent series of railroad merger and acquisition moves.

Five unions had appealed a ruling by a special 3-judge U.S. District Court in Detroit upholding the ICC decision. The unions said the C&O-B&O link-up would have a "tremendous adverse effect" on railroad employment with great nationwide consequences.

The "scalping" decision involves a market practice in which an investment adviser purchases shares of a security for his own account and then recommends the security for long-term investment. The adviser sells his shares at a profit after the rise in the market spurred by his recommendation.

The question before the court was whether this is a "fraud or deceit" and whether the Securities and Exchange Commission could force an investment adviser firm to inform its clients of the practice. The justices decided 7 to 1 that it is a fraud and deceit and that the SEC can get an injunction requiring disclosure.

Pocono Foundry Building Destroyed

STROUDSBURG — A spectacular fire, raging out of control when firemen reached the scene, destroyed the main building of Pocono Foundry and Machine Co. Inc., at 15 Foundry St., Stroudsburg, last night.

Hundreds of spectators, attracted by flames which roared as high as 70 feet in the air at the height of the blaze, crowded streets around the area. Many had ringside seats on the berm of Interstate Route 80, which runs behind the plant.

The first alarm was sounded at 9:46 p.m. Flames were burning through the roof of the building when firemen arrived. Stroud Township Fire Dept. was asked to assist at 10:25 p.m.

Firemen were forced to divide their efforts between extinguishing the fire and keeping it from spreading to other buildings and homes in the closely built up area.

Sparks from the blaze landed on homes on Foundry St. and were carried onto the Dreher Ave. exit of Route 80. Hose lines were strung across the interstate route and some traffic was detoured.

At 10:49 p.m., at the height of the foundry fire, one truck was detached to the Wallace Apartments at 584 Main St., where a woman resident reported smelling smoke. It came from the foundry fire.

The blaze was under control shortly after 11 p.m., although firemen were on duty into the morning hours.

The company is headed by Alfred J. Schaefer of 1737 N. Fifth St. as president. The vice president is William E. Thomas of Stroudsburg RD 1, and the secretary-treasurer is George Schaefer of 1727 N. Fifth St.

Studebaker Cuts Auto Production

NEW YORK (AP) — Studebaker Corp., an automaker for 61 years, announced Monday a halt of car building at South Bend, Ind., site of 90 per cent of production operations.

However, Byers Burlingame, installed as company president in a management shakeup two weeks ago, said Studebaker will continue assemblies on a drastically reduced scale at a Canadian plant in Hamilton, Ont.

Heavy financial losses, aggravated by a poor reception for Studebaker's completely restyled 1964 line introduced in September, led to the decision.

The shutdown at South Bend will cut out jobs for an estimated 6,000 employees, including about 5,000 production line workers.

News that Studebaker would end its unprofitable car manufacturing in the United States and is moving its auto operations to Canada brought a flood of buyers to the stock. It was up at a point at its best but ended the day with a rise of 3/4 at 7 1/4 on turnover of 396,000 shares, making it by far the most active issue.

Precise effects on personnel and Studebaker's approximately 2,100 dealers in the United States were not altogether clear. Burlingame assured the American car-buying public that a flow of service, parts and accessories for the one million Studebakers on the road will be maintained through U.S. and Canada sources.

The shift to Canada was described by Burlingame as a "Realistic, practical" program for maintaining the 112-year-old Studebaker name in the automobile business.

The revamping of automobile operations, it was said, will have no effect on operations of Studebaker's other 12 divisions.

These branches of the company's activities, mostly added in a diversification program launched in 1958, include manufacture and sale of diesel generators, farm implements, refrigerators and numerous other products.

With introduction of the Lark, a compact model in 1958, Studebaker made a short-lived comeback. Profits jumped to $28.5 million in 1959, then hit the skids again as the Lark met competition from other compact cars.

Anderson, a Democrat-for-Eisenhower who later turned into a registered Republican, is a wealthy Texan who has now graduated to investment banking in New York. He is an old friend of Johnson, but he served as secretary of the Treasury under Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The liberals complain that as secretary Anderson advocated balancing the budget at almost any cost. And, they complain that when gold flowed out of the country he panicked and went hollering for help to, of all people, the Germans.

To all and sundry, Johnson is proclaiming: "I am the only President you've got; I need your help."

Johnson Shuns Political Labels

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second of three stories on how Lyndon B. Johnson is doing in the White House. The third, dealing with the vast problems he faces, will appear Wednesday morning.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Do not try to find Lyndon B. Johnson in any pigeonhole labeled "liberal," "conservative" or "middle of the road."

For he is bound to pop out and express indignation. Something like what he used to say, when he was Senate majority leader, to an assistant who had committed an error, no matter how minor: "You couldn't have done me more damage if you had taken a knife and cut my heart out."

Avoids Labels

If there is one thing the new President is bent on avoiding, it is a label. He is not, of course, averse to each voter filing him away in a pigeonhole dear to that particular voter's heart. There was no objection from Johnson when Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman emerged from the President's oval office the other day and with something like ecstasy exclaimed: "He is an agrarian populist. You could almost feel the soil running through his fingers."

Now being an agrarian populist may be fine on the prairies. But there is very little soil to run through the fingers on the sidewalks of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia.

Strong In South

And it is there that Johnson's political problems lie. In the South his base is rated much sounder than was the late President John F. Kennedy's. Already some political observers are figuring that Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who figured he could carry Dixie, has gone down the presidential drain.

But in the north Johnson is largely an "X"—meaning an unknown quantity—or if not exactly unknown, somewhat suspect. Many Negroes, to name one voting element, are unsure about him, despite the fact that he performed the rather amazing feat of pushing through the Senate the first civil rights legislation since Reconstruction.

Anyway, folks are saying he cannot deliver a speech fetchingly and if in the television debates the Republicans put up some personable fellow, quick on the uptake, Johnson is politically dead.

Playing Politics

Now there is no need to make a judgment—pro or con — on whether Johnson is playing politics. Who could make such an accusation against a man who doesn't know how to play anything else? He always has been a politician to his fingertips, and if his moves seem political, he could be wholly unconscious of this.

So it happened that the mayors of New York, Chicago and the longtime Democratic boss of Pennsylvania turned up in preferred places in the presidential gallery when Johnson made his first presidential speech to Congress.

So also the interminable conferences with leaders of business, labor, the Negroes, the loyal Republican opposition, the Democratic opposition, personified by such men as Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia; the confabs with difficult French President Charles de Gaulle and with Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet foreign minister and envoy plenipotentiary for Premier Khrushchev.

Liberal Doubts

Everybody came out saying nice things about Johnson. But before the American liberals make up their minds fully, they would like to know more about what went on between Johnson and one Robert B. Anderson, another conferee.

Anderson, a Democrat-for-Eisenhower who later turned into a registered Republican, is a wealthy Texan who has now graduated to investment banking in New York. He is an old friend of Johnson, but he served as secretary of the Treasury under Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The liberals complain that as secretary Anderson advocated balancing the budget at almost any cost. And, they complain that when gold flowed out of the country he panicked and went hollering for help to, of all people, the Germans.

To all and sundry, Johnson is proclaiming: "I am the only President you've got; I need your help."

$72 Million Aid Session Begins

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly completed action Monday night on legislative reapportionment, then moved into another special session to consider $72 million worth of appropriations for state-aided institutions.

As a safeguard against errors in the redistricting bills the legislature is keeping the special reapportionment session alive until at least Friday, while operating concurrently under the appropriations session.

The back-to-back special sessions are believed unique in Pennsylvania history. Special sessions may consider only specific subjects, thus the reason for the unusual parliamentary proceedings.

Republicans in the House and Senate earlier used their superior numbers to pass measures realigning the 50 Senate districts and reducing House seats from 210 to 209 in a general reshuffling of districts.

In another unusual development, the House pushed the clock ahead 20 minutes to read 9 p.m. and began the appropriations session on the House floor fixed by Gov. Scranton. The Senate waited until the hands of the clock actually reached 9 p.m.

The Senate received the 39 bills allocating the money to state-aided hospitals, colleges, universities, special schools, museums and governmental bodies.

Democrats twice refused during the regular session, which ended Aug. 3, to provide the votes to reach the two-thirds majority. They withheld the votes as a lever to bargain in the reapportionment hassle.

The governor prepared a statement for delivery at the start of the appropriations session.

State Aid Session

In it he said five months of the fiscal year have passed and that the state-aided institutions "which depend upon subsidies from the Commonwealth to help pay for their operations have been denied the funds they so urgently need," adding: "Many have had to borrow money to keep going."

Close Vote

A startling finish marked the House vote. Republicans were able to muster only 104 votes on the first try, with two absentees and Reps. H. Jack Seltzer and Clarence Manbeck of Lebanon County abstaining in apparent protest to a change which moves Lebanon County from a district with Lancaster County to one with Schuylkill County.

Republicans picked up the 105th vote when Rep. Blaine Hocker, R-Dauphin, unexpectedly appeared on the floor to vote. His father had died earlier in the day.

Democrats were solid in opposition until Rep. H. J. Maxwell, D-Westmoreland, suddenly switched his vote from no to yes, giving the measure the clinching vote.

Manbeck and Seltzer, who had been on the fence, just as quickly threw their votes to the "no" position and the electric roll call was locked.

Petrosky Threatens

Minority Leader Anthony J. Petrosky, also of Westmoreland County, jumped up stormed a few feet across the floor to the wall where Maxwell was standing, waved a finger in front of Maxwell's face and shouted: "Just remember that you've got to win in the primaries and I'll see that you are defeated if I have to come down there myself."

Maxwell, paying no attention, walked over to the press gallery and told newsmen: "I'm no hero, but this was just a silly waste of time. If they (The Republicans) didn't have the votes today they would get them tomorrow. The courts are going to decide this anyhow — you and I both know that."

Johnson Presses Cost Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson pressed anew Monday his search for ways to make significant cuts in the massive U.S. defense budget without endangering national security.

In other actions taken during another conference-filled day Johnson also: —Told Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall that he wants Udall's department to assume responsibility for U.S. oil policies.

Johnson is from Texas, the nation's top oil-producing state, and it appears he is determined to counter any suggestions that his state ties might influence national policies in oil.

Burglars Shave Schick Clean

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Burglars stole 2,300 electric shavers over the weekend from Schick Inc., Lancaster, police reported Monday.

The company said the wholesale value of the shavers was $27,810.

Police said the shavers were packed in 200 cartons and all together weighed about a ton and a half. They believe the cartons, which were resting on two wooden skids in the shipping department when employees left Saturday, were transported by a hand truck to the doorway and then carried about 25 feet from the building, taken over a fence and probably loaded onto a truck.

Police said there was no evidence of forced entry.

Solons Study Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said on Sunday congress will end its session this year with a whimper, not the usual bang which accompanies congressional adjournments.

But he said President Johnson will be "quite forceful" with the new session of congress which convenes in January "and I would expect that he would get action in some important areas."

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., meanwhile, said he is willing to remain in Washington until the end of the year to insure congressional action on the eight remaining appropriations bills which have not yet passed congress and on civil rights and a tax cutting bill.

Gangster Offers Self For Wife

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Angelo Bruno, reputed leader of the Philadelphia Cosa Nostra crime syndicate, says he is willing to come back to this country and face the music if the government lets his wife off the hook, a government spokesman reported Saturday.

Bruno and his wife have been in Italy since August, shortly before he was indicted for running an alleged loan shark racket.

The government spokesman said Bruno and his wife, Sue, are involved in a tax investigation launched in Miami. Federal agents say the Brunos transferred assets in the Miami area in such a way as to evade taxes.

If Bruno returns, the spokesman said, the McClellan committee may call him as a witness. Informer Joseph Valachi testified before the committee and told of the workings of the Cosa Nostra.

Mrs. Jomo Kenyatta No. 3 welcomed Mrs. Jomo Kenyatta No. 2 to Kenya on Sunday and both went off happily to meet their husband—Kenya's prime minister.

With them went Kenatta's two daughters by his marriage to Mrs. Kenyatta No. 1.

The occasion was the arrival from London of Kenyatta's English wife, Edna May. She came to be an honored guest at Kenya's independence celebration this week and it is rumored she may stay and take her place in the community, Kenya becomes independent Thursday.

Pope Paul's planned trip to the Holy Land next month was reported to have Vatican security officers re-examining protective measures for the pontiff due to Egyptian reaction.

Concern about security arrangements was said to have been heightened by Cairo press reaction. Papers there say his pilgrimage will be interpreted as Vatican recognition of Israel and one, Al Akhbar, wrote that it feared, "a Zionist attempt on the Pope's life."

It asked: "Who would guarantee for us that the Zionists would not kill the Pope during his visit to the Holy Land."

William B. Murphy, president of Campbell Soup Co., said he believes a massive educational effort is needed both to achieve equality and to improve the qualifications and the status of the Negro.

Murphy said at the annual Pennsylvania Society dinner in New York over the weekend that the problem of racial equality is the nation's top domestic problem and that a massive educational effort on behalf of the Negro, is needed.

"Already there are bright spots on the horizon, programs which are being watched with great interest by business as being supported heavily by industry," he said.

Riccardo Moriboli, 37, once worked in an Italian railroad yard but his real ambition was to sit in the cab and run trains.

He proved his skill as an engineer on seven runs between Milan and Venice last August.

The feat cost him $80 in a Venice court yesterday. The prosecution said Moriboli posed as an official of the Italian state-run rail system.

Jews Begin Hanukkah Festival Tonight

EAST STROUDSBURG — Special Hanukkah services will be observed by the congregation of Temple Israel tonight at 7:30. The service will include the lighting of the traditional first candle.

In December of every year, Jews observe the festival called Hanukkah. It is a joyous holiday, celebrating the first great victory for religious freedom won by the Jews more than two thousand years ago.

In those days, the Jews of Palestine were dominated by the rule of Antiochus IV, a Syrian - Greek Emperor who demanded that everyone in his empire follow his ways of worship. Attempting to force the Jews to adopt his pagan ways, he seized their Temple in Jerusalem, filled it with idols and then ordered the Jews to abandon their faith on pain of death.

But the Jews refused to give up their faith in the One God, Mattathias, the elder of the town of Modin in Palestine, in defiance of the tyrant, called on the Jews to revolt. They followed their leader into the hills of Judea where Judah Maccabee, one of Mattathias five sons, organized them into an army.

"It is better for us to die in battle than to look upon the tragedies of our nation and sanctuary", he told the Jews. Judah received the name Maccabee, which means "Hammer", because of the blows he struck for freedom.

For three years the Jews fought the army of Antiochus. The account of this struggle is recorded in the Book of Maccabees where the story is told as follows:

Despite the overwhelming size of the enemy force, the Syrian-Greeks were decisively defeated and driven out of Jerusalem, and Judah Maccabee was finally able to lead his troops happily and victoriously back into their city.

There, the Jews cleansed and purified the Temple of every pagan object that had been brought into it, and made it once again a house of worship. It is told in Jewish legend that when Judah's men were cleaning out the Temple, they found just a single jar of holy oil, only enough to keep the eternal light before the Holy Ark burning for one day.

Miraculously this one jar burned for eight days and eight nights, allowing the priests of the Temple enough time to prepare a sufficient supply of oil so that the eternal light could remain lit without interruption.

Judah Maccabee then proclaimed an eight - day holiday to celebrate the rededication of the Temple of God. Thus the festival received its name, Hanukkah means "Dedication".

Today, children love this holiday, not only because it has become a time for the giving of small gifts, very often distributed on each of the eight nights but also because Hanukkah is the traditional time for playing the dreidel game.

The dreidel is a small four-sided wooden or metal top that is spun by hand. The sides are inscribed with the four Hebrew letters which begin the words: "Nes gadal haya sham" (A great miracle happened there).

It is also traditional to serve latkes, a kind of potato pancake at Hanukkah parties. But the big event of Hanukkah is the candle - lighting ceremony commemorating the light that burned for eight days during the rededication of the Temple.

Every night of the festival, the father of the family places the candles in a special candelabrum called the Menorah. In the presence of the whole family he lights one candle the first night, two the second, and so on until eight candles are lit on the last night, always using a helper candle called the Shamos.

The B-racha or blessing is recited during the candle-lighting ceremony. The entire family sings together the many songs of the holiday.

Seven Year Plan

Russian Premier Khrushchev came up with the biggest seven year plan of them all yesterday.

He announced a $16.6 billion plan to develop the Communist chemical industry, with special emphasis on chemical fertilizer to spur Russian agriculture.

The Russian masses, who have been hungry for bread and flour during one of the nation's worst drought years and worst harvests are probably not happy to hear that more fertilizer will be produced.

Another massive seven year plan, which sounds impossible in scope and execution, will not fill their stomachs this year or next, or the next after that.

Khrushchev's announcement came after a year of Russian purchases of and negotiations for wheat from Western nations. He has had to turn to Canada, Australia, and even the United States for huge wheat purchases.

The Russian premier criticized "the malicious fever that has gripped our enemies" since the Russian crop failure and the foreign wheat purchases.

That "malicious fever," which we confess has gripped us, is not joy at the hunger and discomfort of the Russian people.

It is rather a smile of capitalist satisfaction at the underlying causes of the Russian food crisis—inefficient government management of farms, a breakdown of the collective farm system invented and preached throughout the world as the only way to feed hungry masses, and poor farm technology.

No American farmer can claim that he is the completely free individualist of the capitalist myth. There are too many government subsidies for farmers in America.

But any American farmer can claim that he is a free man, working his own soil, when compared to the Russian farmer.

We expect that there will be more capitalist smiles before the gigantic $16.6 billion seven year chemical plan is long under way. It is not something the Russians can just buy on the open market. It must be developed over a period of time—not seven years.

Monroe County Condolences

The Woman's Club of the Stroudsburgs is collecting signatures and messages of condolence for Mrs. John F. Kennedy which will be collected in a book and sent to the widow of the late President of the United States.

In a statement to the club last week, Mrs. Edmund Strickland of Mt. Pocono spoke the mind of many Americans who watched Mrs. Kennedy in grief during that incredible televised weekend of assassination, murder, funeral and burial.

"As we watched Mrs. Kennedy through our tears last week, we all must have had the impulse to let her know that we shared her grief," said Mrs. Strickland, president of the club and a Republican.

Many people of both parties did have that impulse, but the means of expression was lacking. Now the Woman's Club has put lists in the banks of Monroe County which people may sign and on which they may write messages to Mrs. Kennedy.

It is a compassionate gesture. Many will want to express their sympathy and their own grief to Mrs. Kennedy. Many will want to help reduce her grief by sharing it.

And many will want to thank her for the dignity and nobility with which she let us share her grief during the three long days of Nov. 23, 24 and 25 when the whole nation watched through its tears her great tragedy.

Anti-Noise Squad

By George Dixon

CARACAS — The United States has the Secret Service. Venezuela has the Silent Service. The Secret Service is charged with guarding the counterfeiter. The Silent Service is charged with running down noisemakers.

The terrorists who are keeping Venezuela in a state of siege have a childish predilection for almost anything that makes a loud "bang." They're obsessed with the notion that the sound of an explosion is more frightening than the explosion. That's why they go in so extensively for noise bombs.

The noise bombardiers have succeeded in attracting so much attention to their operations that they've been singled out for special handling. The Silent Service, formed by President Romulo Betancourt, devotes its entire energies to chasing the boom-boom boys.

The anti-noise squad gets to do a lot of traveling because the noise bombers range far and wide. When it's all over, if it ever ends, both noise-bombers and anti-noisebombers should be able to pass any exam on Venezuelan geography cum very loud.

The Silent Service has been concentrating for the last few nights in El Silencio, the noisiest plaza in midtown Caracas. For some reason the terrorists love to noisebomb El Silencio. The normal din there is so tremendous, however, they have to explode a gigantic noisemaker just to make it heard.

The noisemakers also have an affinity for the U.S. Embassy. Thwarted in numerous attempts to smuggle a noisemaker into our diplomatic edifice — Ambassador C. Allan Stewart now keeps very close to the door, including doors that have to be unlocked every few minutes for one reason or another—the noisemakers compromised the other night by exploding a whoosh-boomer in the vacant lot next door. It woke up some of our most somnolent career men.

This, it goes without saying, is tantamount to an atrocity. The Silent Service came whooping, clanging and banging from El Silencio, but the inhabitants of our beleaguered embassy begged them to go away so they could have some quiet.

Although the noisemakers don't kill anybody, they tend to create tension, especially if exploded just behind you. This happened to me the other evening a couple of blocks from Miraflores Palace. The terrorist who ignited the device held onto it a split second too long, and burned his shooting hand. I got very nervous looking at him shake the injured member.

I would have felt better when the Silent Service showed up, if it hadn't made such a racket. There's one thing to be said for noisemakers over lethal bombs, however. They get a better local press. After a night in which the terrorists did more blasting than killing, a Caracas paper next morning carried the reassuring headline:

"Terrorism Milder."

Things have been so overdone in this post-election season that Venezuelans are inclined to compensate by understatement. For four days after the election, Dr. Raul Leoni refused to concede—that he had won. Two days after everybody else in the country agreed he was in, the President elect issued this official statement:

"There is a tendency toward our victory."

It sounded a little like Throbbottom in "Of Thee I Sing," who refused to concede that he had been elected Vice President.

Now that the shouting, if not the shooting, has died down there is a general tendency in officialdom toward understatement.

President Betancourt set the note by declaring there were no political prisoners in Venezuela. He added that there might be 400 or 500 in jail for trying to interfere with the elections, but they weren't political.

Being down here has been a remarkable experience for me, not the least part of which was being privileged to observe an election machine in Winner Leoni's headquarters. It gave the election returns, turned out maps and pictures of the candidate, and played the national anthem.

Q — I hear that dependent parents compensation was recently raised but I am still receiving $75 because of my son's death in World War II. When does this raise become effective?

A — The increase, effective last July, applied to Dependency and Indemnity Compensation only. The older "death compensation" is paid for service-connected deaths occurring before 1957. You may change to the new Dependency and Indemnity Compensation if you wish but this will be advantageous only if your income from all other sources is not over $750 a year. The graduated rates of the newer law may pay less than your present compensation.

'And In That Corner I Want To Put A Cloakroom'

The Pennsylvania Story

New House Leader

HARRISBURG — When Pennsylvania's lawmakers returned to Capitol Hill yesterday, the new, young face in the leadership slot on the administration side of the House of Representatives unwittingly mirrored somewhat of a paradox peculiar to Pennsylvania.

The new, young face was that of 41-year-old Kenneth B. Lee, named on Thursday by in-control House Republicans as their new floor leader.

What makes the naming of Mr. Lee to the exalted post something of a paradox revolves around the fact that while Pennsylvania generally is regarded as a "great big industrial state" with two huge urban complexes in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh — Mr. Lee, alas, is from neither; a "small town boy" as it were, hailing from Eagles Mere in Sullivan County with a rip-roaring population of — 138!

To new Majority Floor Leader Kenneth B. Lee falls the chore of guiding, expediting — literally "running the show" in the House of Representatives — the Legislative wants, wishes and programs of the Republican Scranton Administration.

Mr. Agnew's home? It was in Aspinwall (Allegheny County) — population 377. On the Democratic side in the House back in 1957, Albert S. Readinger held the top leadership post. Mr. Readinger's home town (still outside of Philadelphia and Pitt-burgh) was Reading (population 98,177).

In 1959 he was succeeded (he's now a Berks County Judge) by Representative Stephen McCann, from Carmichaels in Greene County. The population of Carmichaels — 788! Mr. McCann held this post until last year.

His successor and currently House Democratic floor leader? Anthony J. Petrosky, of Slickville, Westmoreland County. The population of Slickville? It's not even listed in the 1960 census report we have! But in 1950 it was a thriving 126.

On the Senate side it's just as interesting. In 1957 John H. Dent (now a Congressman) was Senate Democratic floor leader. Mr. Dent's home town is Jeannette (also Westmoreland County) with a 16,565 population.

His successor, beginning with the 1959 session (and continuing today) is Charles R. Weiner, the only contemporary "big city boy," hailing from Philadelphia (population 2,022,512).

On the Republican side in the Senate, the GOP floor leader during the 1957 session was Roland B. Mahany from (way upstate) Titusville (population 8356) in Crawford County. In the 1959 session (and at present) Senator Mahany was succeeded by James S. Berger as the Senate GOP floor leader. Senator Berger's home: Coudersport, Potter County — population 2889.

The Allen-Scott Report

Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — The United States Information Agency is undertaking a world-wide emergency public relations mission of the most delicate nature.

The government's international public relations arm plans to pull out all the stops to acquaint the world with the activities and findings of the special Presidential Commission studying the circumstances relating to the assassination of President Kennedy.

Under the close personal supervision of Director Edward R. Murrow, the USIA staff is preparing to use all of the government's facilities, including its 111 overseas posts, to keep all nations fully informed of the commission's investigation.

Most of the $7.5 million restored by the Senate Appropriations Committee to this year's USIA budget will be used for this massive public relations campaign if the full Senate and House approve these funds.

USIA's request for $208 million was cut to $163 million by the House earlier this year. Meeting privately last week, the Senate committee restored the budget to $170.5 million by a one-vote margin.

These and other still secret details of USIA plans to focus world attention on the Presidential Commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, were privately outlined to the her Gale McGee, D-Wyo., who led the successful fight to restore the money.

Waving a handful of proxies hurriedly gathered from absent Democratic members, Senator McGee stressed the extra money was needed so that "the USIA can flood the world with information about the findings of the commission on the circumstances relating to the assassination of President Kennedy."

USIA's Big Job

Paul Scott

He revealed that USIA Director Murrow had personally urged him to take the lead in restoring the funds needed to launch this world-wide public relations campaign.

According to Senator McGee, the USIA already has spent $250,000 in unbudgeted funds in one week in relaying to the world the events surrounding the assassination and the orderly succession of President Johnson to the nation's highest office.

He said the objective is to assure the world that the change in presidents has not changed American foreign policies, and that the U.S. government remains strong.

Ahead of the Show — In preparing to launch its lightning-like publicity campaign, the USIA appears to be far ahead of the President's commission in its planning.

At the commission's first private meeting here, members were of the unanimous opinion that it would be several months before the commission would have any findings to report to President Johnson or the nation.

They agreed that no findings could be issued until after the trial of Jack Ruby, slayer of Lee Harvey Oswald, the President's assassin, because of the effect this would have on the case.

The sensational Ruby trial, scheduled to start in February, will run an estimated six weeks, according to the information given the commission by Texas authorities.

Under these circumstances, Chief Justice Warren told the other members of the commission that he planned to notify the White House the panel would not be able to wind up its investigation for at least four to six months.

Commission members also agreed to let Justice Warren select the blue-ribbon panel's counsel and staff, subject to their final approval. All members approved Warren's suggestion that the panel obtain subpoena powers from Congress.

Changing Course — Chief Justice Earl Warren, chairman of the blue-ribbon commission studying the assassination of President Kennedy, has had some second thoughts about serving on panels appointed by the President.

According to Senator Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., Warren turned down a proposal of his in 1958 to serve on another presidential commission.

Senator Keating, a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee that will pass on the special commission's request for subpoena powers, tells of the incident as follows:

"Many years ago I proposed that a Presidential Inability Commission be established on which the Chief Justice of the U.S. would serve. However, in 1958, Chief Justice Warren advised me that it was the view of the Justices of the Supreme Court that this would be inadvisable because of the separation of powers in our government, the nature of the judicial powers, and the possibility of a controversy of this character coming to the Court." In the view of the Chief Justice at that time, these reasons for non-participation of members of the Court were insurmountable.

"Now, as we all know, the Chief Justice has agreed to serve on the President's special commission to study all the facts and circumstances relating to the assassination of President Kennedy."

Stories Behind Words

by William S. Penfield

LION'S SHARE One day, according to one of Aesop's fables, a lion went hunting with a fox, a jackal and a wolf. They killed a deer, and the question arose to how they should divide it.

The lion roared, "Quarter this deer!" and the other three skinned it and cut it into four parts. Then the lion stepped forward.

"The first quarter is mine because I am king of beasts," he said. "The second part is mine, too, because I am judge in this dispute. The third part belongs to me because I took part in the chase. And as for the fourth quarter, I dare either of you to lay a paw on it."

The lion took all four parts without opposition. This tale is the origin of "the lion's share" — meaning all, or nearly all, of anything.

Jury Recommends Leniency In Weatherly Accident Case

STRODSBURG — A Monroe County Court jury of six men and six women yesterday deliberated for an hour and 20 minutes before finding Norman Weatherly, 33, of Cresco, RD 1, guilty on a charge of drunken driving. It recommended leniency.

Judge Edward D. Little of Susquehanna County, specially presiding here, deferred sentencing. The jury had deliberated for 50 minutes when it returned to ask Judge Little if it could recommend leniency. The judge told them that such a recommendation is not binding on the court, but would be taken into consideration.

Weatherly was represented by Atty. Maxwell H. Cohen of Stroudsburg. Dist. Atty. James R. Marsh presented the Commonwealth's case. Weatherly was arrested by East Stroudsburg police following a two-vehicle accident in the borough.

Members of the jury were Samuel Gearhart, Virginia D. Savitz, Pauline A. Rodenbach, Mabel Miller, Ruth G. Dunning, Donald R. Tinney, Harvey J. Sliker, Naomi Ace, Joseph A. Rustin, Mary Alyce McDonald, Walter R. Stanard and Clarence A. Majer.

Accepts Guilty Plea

Judge Little accepted a guilty plea from Paul W. Strausser, 20, of Stroudsburg RD 3, and deferred sentence until 10 a.m. today. Strausser, Edward W. Green, 21, of Bath, and Merlin G. Frantz, 33, Henryville RD 1, were charged with burglarizing the home of Louis M. Mongilutz in Pocono Township.

Green has already pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Fred W. Davis named Atty. Harry Lee of Stroudsburg to represent Frantz when he appeared in court last week.

Judge Little permitted Strausser, represented by Atty. Walter Olenick of Stroudsburg, to plead guilty to theft of a power saw, shotgun and food from the Mongilutz cottage, but directed that the court record show he was not pleading guilty to theft of a diamond ring which was listed in the indictment.

Strausser, through his attorney, told the court he did not take the ring, did not see it and had no knowledge of whether or not one of the other two charged with him took it.

CAS Report Given To Commissioners

STRODSBURG — Monroe County commissioners yesterday met with Children's Aid Society officials to discuss the operation of CAS during November.

Representing CAS were Mrs. Horace Butler, president, and Charles Jones, executive secretary.

Jones reported that CAS had 45 families and 149 children under its care at the beginning of the month, and that during the month four families and 12 children were added to the rolls.

He also said that during the month two families and four children were discharged from CAS care and that at the end of the month the case load was 47 families and 157 children.

The report showed that movement during the month indicated three children dismissed to their mother's care, one was returned to the mother, and one to an out of county adoption home.

Jones gave the location of the children as follows:

In placement are 41 children, one in a private boarding foster home, two in out-of-county adoption homes, six in institutions, and one in Hershey School.

He added that there are 29 active foster homes and 10 on the inactive list.

In other business the commissioners approved holding tax appeals on Friday, Dec. 20, and Monday, Dec. 23, in their office in Monroe County Courthouse.

Galloping Horses Provide Bit Of Old West In 'Gap'

EAST STRODSBURG — Two eager horses, an open coral gate, and wide open spaces combined to provide a bit of the old west for Delaware Water Gap residents recently.

The horses, owned by Dr. Morton Spinner of Greentree Drive in East Stroudsburg, wandered out of their open coral sometime early Saturday afternoon and galloped more than four miles to the cold air cave in Delaware Water Gap.

The two horses, a gelding named Cayford and a mare called Duchess, moved along interstate Rt. 80 until they came to the Water Gap exit, where they turned right and moved down old Rt. 611 into the town.

The pair pounded down the wrong side of the narrow road until they came to the cold air cave. There they were taken into tow and returned to their corral at the Spinner home.

State police from the Stroudsburg substation investigated the incidents after they received phone calls from people who couldn't believe that untended horses have a place on a super-highway on Saturday afternoon.

PMVB Backs Supplement On Poconos

STRODSBURG — The board of directors of the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau last night unanimously endorsed a New York Times plan to print a special 16-page supplement advertising Pocono Mountain vacations.

Eric Schuchard, bureau president, said, "The directors gave the Times proposal their wholehearted and enthusiastic support. I am 100 per cent in favor of it and I think the Pocono resort industry should set its sights at this high level many times in the future."

The supplement, in color and black and white, is scheduled for the April 26th edition of the Sunday Times. On Sunday the Times placed its circulation at 1,238,000.

Curt Troeger, resort advertising manager of the Times, has stated the promotion will cost a total of $36,000 with five full pages of color advertisements and color on the front and center pages.

A full page color ad would cost $7,000. A full page black and white ad would cost $5,500. Ad prices will range from the $7,000 color ad to a half column black and white ad costing $550.

John E. Calhoun, executive secretary of the bureau, said, "We think the Poconos are now sufficiently mature to handle a promotion of this type."

In other business at last night's meeting at the Penn-Stroud board detailed a plan to include in its brochure resorts from the Wayne and Pike County areas. The four tourist promotion agencies in that area will contribute toward the cost of including Wayne and Pike resorts in bureau advertising.

The board also endorsed a request for its support from the Barrett Township Junior Women's Club in its efforts to have the Pennsylvania Miss America finals held in the Poconos.

Bullets Fly; E-burg Police Nab Crawns

STRODSBURG — Two Blainstown, N. J., brothers are in Monroe County Jail in default of $500 bail each after their capture by East Stroudsburg police in a bullet-spattered chase through the Stroudsburgs and Stroud Township early yesterday.

They are Raymond E. Crawn, 23, and his brother, Edward F. 22, who are being held on motor vehicle larceny charges pending a hearing before Harold D. Larson, Sr., East Stroudsburg Justice of the Peace. They were released from jail in Belvidere, N. J., Sunday after serving 30-day sentences each on disorderly conduct charges.

Patrolman Harold J. Lanahan and Richard A. Notz first noticed the Crawns when the brothers entered a service station on Washington St., near the interborough bridge. The two men pulled out of the station and headed west across the bridge when they saw the police.

They were halted near Fifth and Main Sts. in Stroudsburg but as Lanahan approached on foot, the car sped away. Lanahan suffered an eye injury as he jumped back into the moving patrol car.

Lanahan fired five bullets into the car as it raced south on Route 191. The police chased the car for three miles before it went off the road near Kitty's Tavern, a few hundred yards south of the intersection of Route 191 and Cherry Valley Rd.

The car in which they were riding was owned by Kenneth E. Kreger of High St., Blainstown. It was reported stolen at 2 a.m. yesterday from front of his home.

PROPERTY DISPOSAL MAP of the Lincoln Ave. Redevelopment Project in East Stroudsburg shows the five parcels of land that will be disposed of by the redevelopment authority. Parcels one and four are for commercial redevelopment. Parcels two, three and five are for industrial development.

Land Disposal Discussed By Redevelopment Group

EAST STRODSBURG — Means of disposing of five parcels of land in the Lincoln Ave. urban redevelopment project were discussed at a meeting of the East Stroudsburg Planning Commission and Monroe County Redevelopment Authority yesterday in the East Stroudsburg Municipal Building.

It was decided that the three industrial tracts in the project will be sold on a negotiated basis as recommended by the federal government. The two commercial parcels will be sold on the basis of sealed bids and such factors as the business planning to move into the area and the appearance of the building to be constructed on the site.

A spokesman said the latter requirements were inserted because of a desire to select firms which will benefit the community the most.

Julius Ginsberg, owner of Redmond Finishing Co., East Stroudsburg, and members of Pocono Mountains Industries, Inc., joined commission and authority members in a discussion of the industrial sites.

Ginsberg said he will study a proposed price of $2,100 an acre on a 2.744-acre tract and will decide in a few days if he wishes to purchase any of it.

Atty. Alex L. Bensinger, president, and Stuart F. Pipher and Montgomery F. Crowe of Pocono Mountains Industries studied the parcels in the project and said they will contact the redevelopment authority under Ginsberg makes his decision.

The industrial development subsidiary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce is reportedly interested in approximately 10 acres of the land, but representatives at the meeting did not commit themselves to any purchase.

There are two commercial and three industrial parcels in the project. The commercial areas contain 3.457 and 1.17 acres respectively, while the industrial parcels are 5.07, 3.88 and 2.744 acres respectively.

Reward Posted On Valence Bldg.

STRODSBURG — The owner of the Valence Building at 18 N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg has offered a $200 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the man who burglarized his office building early Saturday morning.

John C. Valence said he was offering the reward in the hope that someone will recognize part of the loot from the detailed description police have obtained of the stolen articles.

Stroudsburg police disclosed yesterday that they have an eyewitness to the crime. The unidentified witness told police a man was seen entering the building through a rear door about 1:40 Saturday morning.

Police described the suspect as a slim male between five feet six inches and five feet ten inches tall and wearing blue coveralls at the time of the crime.

Offices ransacked were three used by J. L. Cohen, certified public accountant; The Stroudsburg School of Cosmetology; The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office; the advertising suite of John G. Valence, and the brokerage office of Carl M. Loeb, Rhoades Co.

The police list of stolen items includes an assortment of ladies' gold compacts; lipstick; a perfume candle; a yellow Zenith table model radio; a Parker "31" pen, silver and blue; a Manhattan dress shirt, and an undetermined amount of small change.

The burglary was discovered about 8:30 a.m. Saturday by Mrs. Ada Grygo, an employee of the beauty school. According to Stroudsburg Patrolman Richard Wolbert, who investigated, all offices in the building were ransacked after individual doors were forced open.

Damage was estimated at $195 to Viglione's car and $90 to the Koerner vehicle.

The Daily Investor

Differences Of Opinion

Q. Two people have a difference of opinion concerning a certain stock, which has been trading for many months at just about $12 a share. Mr. A says that the stock has been in an accumulative stage. Mr. B says that the stock is simply being unloaded. What do you say? Your answer should be interesting.

A. Interesting? I hope so. When this column stops being interesting, it will stop being printed. And to keep the interest of readers, this column must be frank — some people even say "blunt."

The hard fact of the matter is that you won't get a sure answer here, or any place else, to that "difference of opinion." You may get your answer, eventually, if the market price of that stock shows a major change — either up or down. This column has never pretended to have a crystal ball.

For the benefit of many readers it should be explained that

"accumulative stage" is one of the many terms used by so-called sophisticated followers of the stock market, who have themselves convinced that they can predict the future course of the stock market and individual stocks by such things as theories, trends, charts and even "signals."

Please, dear readers, don't ask me to explain all these things. I don't understand them. Neither do most of the people who use them.

To such people accumulative stage is a period of time during which a stock is being bought and, as a result, figures to go up in price in the future.

Whether that is happening, or whether people who owned the stock are simply selling it to get rid of it (unloading) is impossible to tell. The only people who could know are those who are doing the buying and selling. Let's not forget that, every time 100 shares of stock are sold, somebody buys those 100 shares.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Girl Scouts are always prepared. For instance, a casual mention that I'd like to "borrow a good deed from a Girl Scout" brought the opportunity bright and early Saturday morning, an invitation to talk to the Seniors on newspaper work, which I still think will be more fun for me than for them.

However, with at least a nominal good deed promised, the rest of the weekend was a merry round of pleasure, except I could have comfortably spread it out over the next month.

I wish I could have spent more time at Lovene Weidlich's wedding on Saturday night. The East Stroudsburg Methodist Church was a picture with the candles and greens, Christmas ornaments, and so was the wedding party with holly and white muffs. In candlelight the attendants' gowns looked green but in the reception line they turned out to be royal blue. Those silver roses were actually the what I'd call ashes of roses, and sort of dreamlike.

For once, I can comment on how nice the men of the wedding party looked too. Since I see them mostly in printer's apron and ink the change to formal attire was all the more impressive.

The reception was not only handsome, too, but it smelled delicious with some of my favorite cooks in the kitchen, but I had to visit the Garden Club's Christmas Show. That was well worth several hours of enjoyment on its own. Everybody was raving about Dottie Grant's festoon over the vault, which must have taken months of work, and was worthy to hang with the del Robbia's in some Roman palace.

And I haven't even mentioned one of the biggest open houses of the social season with some of the handsomest holiday dresses making their appearance and what seemed like hundreds of my favorite people all in one place; nor Sunday morning church or my first supper guests in my new home on Sunday night, with the rain on the roof as a cozy kind of christening.

Nor the decorations, the music, the atmosphere of the Woman's Club Christmas meeting, not to mention all the red, green and sparkly dresses. What I need, I decided, is longer weekends. But at least there was no time for brooding.

Chocolate scorches easily so it's safest to melt it over hot water.

The East Stroudsburg Methodist Church had sprays of Christmas greens with red ribbons and Christmas ornaments in each of the tall standards which held the lighted candles at the end of the pews. At the altar, a seven-branched candelabra, a bouquet of white flowers and greens formed the background for the wedding party.

Musical background was provided by Robert Currier, organist, and Robert Wolbert, tenor. Rev. Harold C. Eaton performed the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white brocade with a portrait neckline, a ball-shaped skirt with a self-rose at the waistline and a chapel sweep. Her finger-

Christmas Spirit Stressed In Club Program, Projects

Stroudsburg — In program, business and projects the Woman's Club of the Stroudsburgs took on a more solemn and deeper significance for the members and their guests who filled the club rooms to capacity yesterday afternoon.

Setting the more serious note was the tribute by the president, Mrs. Edmund Strickland, to the late President Kennedy and her charge to the members.

Quoting J. Irwin Miller, president of the National Council of Churches, "In this last shocking week, like birds of ill omen, all our fears, our unharnessed hates, our selfishness, which we have tried to rename Liberty, they have all come home in one dreadful act, and have forced us to our knees in shame."

Mrs. Strickland asked: "Have we been true to the doctrine of love contained in all our faiths? Or have repeated the senseless stories of debasement about others that have found such wide circulation?"

"Let us rise and pay our respects to our courageous Mr. Kennedy and pray silently that we dedicate ourselves as moral citizens of the United States of America."

Mrs. Strickland also explained about the Book of Conduces which the Woman's Club is preparing. Loose pages have been placed at strategic places in the county including all of the banks and their branches as well as Wyckoff's, Stroud Union High School, East Stroudsburg Joint High School, and other high schools in the county if they so desire. The pages will be collected, covered with plastic, and assembled in a book to be sent to Mrs. Kennedy from Monroe County. The signatures will be collected in about ten days.

The program, introduced by Mrs. Henry Surrey, carried the Christmas message of hope and joy in scripture and song by Phyllis Heller, soprano; Edward Heller, baritone, and Ethel Allen, accompanist.

The Hellers presented the story in three sections: the prophecy, the nativity and man's response. Club motto for the month was "Review the Past Through Religious Experience."

Mrs. Brian Walker Jr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Reppert led the opening ceremonies. Mrs. Arthur Schiebel conducted the collection for the Christmas parties to be held at the Well-Baby Clinic this month with members contributing $61.63.

The club rooms were decorated on mantel and window sill with Christmas decorations including a blue and silver Christmas tree by Mrs. Edwin Hughes and Mrs. T. I. Metzgar.

The tea table, centered with white reindeer and a flowering candle arrangement, was in charge of Mrs. John Shinn, Mrs. Arthur Henning, and Mrs. T. Manning Curtis assisted by Mrs. Harvey Pullen, Mrs. Charles Park, Mrs. Claude Leister and Mrs. Montgomery Crowe.

Announcement was made of a special Christmas program, celebrating the club's 50th anniversary which will be open to guests, on Jan. 13.

Variety, Ingenuity Mark Christmas Arrangements

East Stroudsburg—Not money but ideas from Christmas is what visitors were withdrawing from the East Stroudsburg National Bank on Saturday afternoon and Sunday as more than 200 registered for the first Christmas Show to be sponsored by the Monroe County Garden Club.

There were more than 75 entries from the members in the non-competitive exhibit of Christmas decorations ranging from the great festoon composed of pine cones cut to resemble flowers to holiday place cards and favors, from a Christmas supper table for four to arrangements for coffee tables.

Frosty morning, old fashioned Christmas, wings at my window, corsages were among the artistic arrangements, and African violets, foliage, blooming and Christmas plants were among the horticulture exhibits, including a table identifying the various types of Christmas trees.

A table of fragrant flowers, balsam, even dried apples showed fragrance for the blind, with a free-will offering taken at the door to be used for this Garden Club project.

Spiced cider and cookies were served. Mrs. Russell E. Hamblin, chairman and the committee thanked all those who had cooperated in the success of this first Christmas show.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

Spelling out Christmas is fun . . . but I'm always forgetting some of the things that are symbolized by the letters in the word. I didn't mention it before, but C is for Ciro's . . . not the fabulous night club, but the fabulous perfumes with which I am liberally sprinkled at the moment. I tested them all at one time, and am literally floating in a heavy, musky mist that would be delightful in smaller doses. Ciro's: New Horizons . . . Danger . . . Oh la la (spelled this way for some strange reason, but pronounced O la la) and Reflexions. The Essence Mist is 2.50; Dusting powder, 2.75.

H is for hosiery . . . and don't you ever believe women don't appreciate it. No woman ever has too many pairs, and all women love the Bur mill Cameos, Berkshires, and Granites sold at Wyckoff's. Women who wear support hosiery also welcome this as a gift, for it retails around 5.00 the pair and is too expensive for the average budget to really buy a sufficient number of pairs. This year the younger women, including our teenagers, are mad about Camelot hosiery—textured, heavy stockings of colorful patterns adapted to modern wear from the Broadway musical "Camelot." These are 2.50 a pair, and a girl really should have several pairs, don't you agree?

R is for roll-on perfume dispensers for the purse, in addition to all those other R items previously mentioned. These are an excellent way to carry one's favorite fragrance, and they're as attractive as an item of jewelry.

I is for incense . . . and that includes all manner of scent for the home—not just cones to burn in Oriental-type burners, but the balsam, pine, or baberry aromas of candles; room sprays; sachet powders for dresser drawers, and sachet wafers in lucite containers at 1.00, to hang in a closet, so that one's apparel will gradually absorb the soft, subtle perfume.

S is for shirts . . . socks . . . sweaters . . . ski pants . . . and sport coats, all of which are suitable for men and boys, women and girls, and can be found attractively priced in the respective fashion departments of Wyckoff's. S is for shifts of woven chambray in pretty plaids, sizes 10 to 18, by Pat Perkins, in our Budget Cotton dress department at 5.98 and 6.98 . . . and for shift gowns of nylon, blends, flannel, or cotton challis, by Schrank, Katz, or Val Mode, priced from 3.00 up in our Lingerie Department.

S is for salad bowls, of wood in any number of sizes and shapes, carved from the exotic woods of many foreign lands; or of crystal, china or even plastic. Look over the big selection in both our International Gift Center and Housewares Department. S is for spoon racks of old-fashioned pine finish priced at 4.98 in Gifts, and for the spoons to display on them. These are priced from 75c to 1.75 in both the Gift and Jewelry departments, and some are most unusual, with enameled designs in the bowl. S is for the snowman candle with both arms full of candles. Nothing surpasses getting lit at the holidays if you're a snowman (7.50) or even a Santa, just 1.50. S is for those precise and precious Stellar barometers from Germany. If you wish to know what the weather is going to do, here's the way to find out—and to decorate your home (or a friend's) as well. Prices range from 3.98 to 15.00, and men love 'em, I'm told.

S is for silver: silver-rimmed crystal: candlesticks, 10.00 a pair; relish dish, free form with three compartments, 12.50; cake plate, 11.50 . . . or for scenes: particularly Helmses, those combination pictures and lights in wide frames to hang upon your wall or above your mantel. All are three-way lighting, I believe.

(But more tomorrow!)

Off The Record

—By BOB CLARK

What does the future hold for high school football in the area?

Persons close to the scene feel scholastic football has seen its best days in the area. A former coach told us the other evening that the Pocono Mountain elevens just can't compete with the schools in the Lehigh Valley.

He cited bigger enrollments at Parkland, Emmaus, Whitehall and other consolidated schools as the barrier facing Stroud Union, East Stroudsburg, Pocono Mountain Joint and Pleasant Valley teams.

"We've stayed pretty well the same," he pointed out. "There has been little population change in the Poconos and the schools are not growing enrollment-wise to meet the bigger influx at Lehigh Valley schools," the man who has given nearly a lifetime to the sport said.

"Our only outlet to giving the fans good competition is to form a league composed of the four Pocono elevens — Stroud Union, Pocono Joint, Pleasant Valley and East Stroudsburg — and the Slate Belt — Bangor, Pen Argyl and Pius X."

"In a few years Pocono Catholic Missions will be ready to field a football team. Then you have a nicely balanced—eight teams—league with a competitive spirit that will draw fans wherever the two opponents are on the gridiron," he concluded.

The above statements have been the cry of many persons for years. M. Stiles (Marty) Baldwin attempted to get this off the ground a score of years ago.

This writer when he was more closely associated with sports penned reams of copy on the same subject. In fact, the Daily Record got the idea off the ground somewhat by setting up the mythical Pocono-Slate Belt Football League. However, from the point of action by school officials, most of the "for" comments went against deaf ears.

Jerry Stulgaitis, recently retired Stroud Union football boss, is in hardy agreement with the formation of a Pocono-Slate Belt Football League.

The former Little All-American end from St. Thomas College, Scranton, was one of the first to see the handwriting on the wall. Jerry's evaluation was to group together teams in this locale instead of traveling all over the Lehigh Valley.

Also he noted that Bangor and Pen Argyl bring more fans to the Stroud Union games than Slatington and Northampton combined.

"It is a shame to let ideal rivalries go to waste just for tradition," Stulgaitis counters.

The 16-year veteran of teaching at Stroud Union says "Times call for the organization of an official Slate Belt-Pocono League."

Countless people feel the same as Baldwin and Stulgaitis. However none, it seems, are affiliated with the administrations of the schools involved. Maybe a package will arrive Christmas—a gift giving the fans, students and administrators something to shout about in years to come.

Grid Hall Of Fame To Honor 10

NEW YORK (AP)—Ten new members, including three old-time football stars and seven modern players, will be inducted into the game's Hall of Fame by the National Football Foundation at its sixth annual awards dinner here Tuesday.

The modern Hall of Fame members to be honored include: Al Agase of Illinois and Purdue guard, now line coach at Northwestern; George Connor, Holy Cross and Notre Dame tackle; Edwin Goat Hale, Mississippi College halfback; Ken Kavanaugh, Louisiana State University end; Cliff Montgomery, Columbia quarterback; Henry Peter Pund, Georgia Tech center; Edward Tryon, Colgate halfback.

The old timers: Thomas Bum McClung, Yale halfback who played in 1889-91 and scored more than 150 touchdowns and 1,000 points; Charles Back Wharton, Penn guard who played in 1830-96 and later was a state senator in Delaware, and George Woodruff, who played at Yale and coached at Penn. He later became acting secretary of the interior, a U.S. federal judge and attorney general of Pennsylvania.

Dietzel Frees Ref Of Blame

NEW YORK (AP)—Army Coach Paul Dietzel exonerated referee Barney Finn of any wrongdoing and blamed himself Monday for his team's heart-breaking 21-15 football loss to Navy.

"The official did exactly right," said Dietzel, a surprise visitor at the New York football writers' luncheon. "I have no fault to find with him. If anybody is to blame, it is me. I was not fully aware of the rules."

Dietzel, however, couldn't help but add:

"But I still feel we should have had the opportunity to put the ball in play last time. I don't know whether we would have scored. But . . ."

Army, trailing by six points, had driven nearly the length of Philadelphia Stadium and with eight seconds left to play were on Navy's two with fourth down coming up.

Army had started the last series of downs on Navy's seven and carried for two, one and two yards on three downs. The noise was deafening. For the third time during the drive, Rollie Stichweh, who had quarterbacked a brilliant game for Army, held up his hands and looked appealingly to Finn.

The referee called an official's time out. Stichweh called his men back into the huddle but after a brief pause, Finn started the clock again and time ran out before the Cadets could get off the play.

"I did just what the rules called for," expalined Finn. "I called time out. I went over to the ball and raised my arms.

The crowd knew what I meant and they quieted down. A soon as I left the ball, I had to start the clock running again."

While Dietzel was careful not to criticize the referee, he pointed out that in previous instances involving Army games, the referee did not resume his count until the snap of the ball.

"It happened during our game with Penn State this season," said Dietzel. "The crowd was making so much noise the boys couldn't hear the signals. The referee called time out. It happened several times. In each case, the clock didn't start again until the ball was snapped."

Before 1st Tunney Fight

Dempsey 'Mickeyed' By Dope Uppercut

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight champion, conceded Monday night that he may have been given a Mickey Finn, but insisted he was not sick the day he lost his title to Gene Tunney in Philadelphia Sept. 23.

"But a doctor told me the next day I'd probably been given a Mickey Finn and I probably was ill for three or four days after that," Dempsey said in reference to a report that he had lost the championship because he had been drugged.

Benny Marshall told of the alleged doping in his column in the Birmingham News Monday, saying it hadn't come out previously because Dempsey would not permit it.

Dempsey, in Minneapolis for a Boys Club of America dinner, said he did not remember the name of the doctor who had told him about the Mickey Finn.

"Forty years ago, who can remember what happened?" Dempsey queried. "I hardly know anything about it at all. I was just dropping a few remarks and had no idea it would end up in print."

Dick Cullum, Minneapolis Tribune sports columnist, said Dempsey told him: "Yes, I was terribly sick the day of the fight. The next day I went to a doctor and he said there was no doubt I had been given a Mickey Finn."

Confronted with the varying statements, Dempsey told an Associated Press man that "Cullum must have misunderstood me" and again denied being ill the day of the fight.

He said Tunney, too, had been scheduled to attend the dinner in Minneapolis but was ill in Boston and unable to come.

The startling revelation, Marshall said, came during an exclusive interview with Dempsey Sunday in a New York restaurant.

At the restaurant Monday, the manager reported that Dempsey was out of town and would not be back until Thursday. "He left last night," the manager said, "and is travelling. We don't expect him until Thursday."

"The men who knew him best knew at noon that it would happen, that Dempsey couldn't hope to win from Gene Tunney," Marshall wrote of the Sept. 23, 1926, fight.

AFL Challenges NFL Grid Kings

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League issued a new challenge Monday for a "championship game" between the winner of his league and the National Football League winner after the 1964 season.

Scout: Steelers 'Tough'

NEW YORK (AP)—Em Tunnell gave the New York Giants coaching staff his scouting report on the Pittsburgh Steelers Monday. It added up to one word—tough.

Not that the Giants had to be told much about the Steelers, who beat them 31-0 in September. But Tunnell had just returned from Dallas where the Steelers edged the Cowboys 24-19 Sunday afternoon. His observations got high priority.

"This is the toughest ball club physically that I've ever play," said the former Giant and Green Bay defensive back. "They do nothing fancy. The defense is simple. But they hit, hit, hit.

Even after they went ahead Sunday, Dallas still had a chance when they threw a pass to Frank Clarke—but Cleendon Thomas hit Clarke so hard he fumbled.

"They do pretty much the same thing they have been doing all along. Ed Brown is the team leader and the Steelers have confidence in him as their quarterback."

"They do go to a set backfield pattern on short yardage situations. When they do that Buddy Dial moved up from flanker to end and Gary Ballman lines up with John Henry Johnson and Dick Hoak or Theron Sapp in the backfield. Hoak has been hurt and they used Sapp at Dallas but they say Hoak will be all right by Sunday."

Michaels Tremendous

"John Baker and Lou Michaels do a great job on defense at the ends. Michaels probably is their best defensive player but Baker is so tall that, even if he doesn't get through all the way, he can knock down passes. They keep the pressure on and hang in there all the way. You saw what they did in Dallas, passing from their own 16 on fourth-and-14. Red Mack made a lot of the yardage by running after he caught the pass. Then Sapp went in for the TD and that was it."

Pittsburgh has never been in anything like this and our guys are used to it. They have a lot of experience going for them and so do we."

Tunnell had to get back in the coaching staff's huddle. Everything was strictly business in the Giants' midtown office. Like Coach Alie Sherman always said, "We play them one at a time."

This is the "one."

The winner is the Eastern Division champion and goes to the title game against either the Bears or the Packers.

That's worth something like $5,000 a man.

A tie will win for the Giants, who would then be 10-3-1 to the Steelers' 7-3-4. Otherwise, if the Giants win the game they win the title. Same for the Steelers.

TV Coverage In NFL Expanded

NEW YORK (AP)—Television coverage of the two big National Football League games Sunday, the Giants-Steelers and Bears-Lions, have been expanded, CBS announced Monday.

The Giants-Pittsburgh game at New York, which will settle the Eastern title, will be sent to 124 stations in the East, South and Southwest and part of the Midwest.

The rest of the Midwest, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Coast areas will get the Bears-Detroit game at Chicago, on 83 stations. That game should decide the Western title.

Only stations in the four home cities will carry the other four NFL Sunday games. These will be the home city stations for the visiting teams in the Minneapolis at Philadelphia, Dallas at St. Louis, Cleveland at Washington and Los Angeles at Baltimore games.

Three Court Tilts Tonight

FAST STRODSBURG — It's had enough when you lose three of the starting five players on your basketball team.

It's much worse when you also lose — at the same time — four of the starting five players from the previous year's JV team.

This is the situation at East Stroudsburg High School this season. It does not give Coach Dale Baker much room for any optimism.

"We're going to try to better our record of last year (5-14)," says Baker. But his tone is not an optimistic one.

The Cavaliers open their 1963-64 season on their own court tonight against Wallenpaupack — the first of a 22-game schedule.

Missing from this year's lineup in E-burg togs, however, will be such familiar faces as Jack Van Horn, Jimmy Steele, Mike Boushell, Bill Williams and Earl Palmer.

Two Starters Back

Among the lettermen returning are Bill Reese, Russ Scott, Doug Hilyard, Mike Sydelnik and Fred Cortright. Reese and Scott are the only two starters from last year's varsity quintet. And only two of those lads reach six feet or more — Scott, who is 6-0, and Cortright, who is 6-3.

The lack of depth comes from last year's JV starters where Monte Perfetti, Tad Janusz, Ron Spinner and Bill Nelson have all been lost. Only Bob LaBar (6-1) returns.

As Baker sums it up: "We had a good JV team last year but we're not getting anything out of it for this year with only one starting player back."

Two Other Games

Tonight's opener for the Cavaliers is one of three hoop battles on the Pocono-Slate Belt agenda. Resuming action are Pen Argyl at Stroud Union, and Hellertown at Pocono Mountain.

Both Pen Argyl and Pocono Mountain will be seeking their first wins of the young campaign. The Green Knights bowed in their opener last Friday to Notre Dame, 60-55. The Cardinals of Pocono Mountain dropped their second straight the same night to Palmyerton.

Stroud Union, 1-1 after losing to Nazareth in their last appearance, will strive to go over the .500 mark.

Celts' Star Censured By NBA

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Kennedy, president of the National Basketball Association, disclosed Monday that he had written a letter of censure to Frank Ramsey of the world champion Boston Celtics for a by-lined magazine article in which he detailed how he drew fouls by deceptions.

The article, published in Sports Illustrated under the title of "Smart Moves by a Master of Deception," was accompanied by pen sketches illustrating the methods used to lure an opponent into committing a foul.

"I have censured Ramsey in a letter that he should receive tomorrow," said Kennedy. "I have no power to do anything else."

Kennedy said he was particularly concerned because he had held long meetings with each team before the season and stressed the responsibility of the players.

"I stressed the responsibility of the players to the youngsters who look upon them as heroes and who might imitate them. Now for a highly popular player of the world championship team to say publicly he is master in deception in an attempt to draw fouls by evasion can only mean that the youngsters will attempt to imitate him."

In Boston, Ramsey said he had not yet received the letter from Kennedy and, "I would rather wait until I see the contents before I make a comment."

Five Coaches Favor Circuit

Baldwin Suggests Forming Pocono-Slate Belt Grid Loop

By Ken O'Brien

DAILY RECORD Sports Editor

STRODSBURG — Formation of a new athletic league comprising the Pocono-Slate Belt area was suggested by Marty Baldwin, general manager of Olympic Reconditioning, last night at the second annual "good-will dinner" which feted football coaches, school officials and press representatives in the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The informal dinner, honoring football coaches in The Daily Record-WVPO coverage area, was sponsored by Baldwin.

"Wouldn't it be great if we could get these eight scholastic teams in one league?" asked Marty. He was referring to the eight teams in the Pocono-Slate Belt area—Stroud Union, East Stroudsburg, Pocono Mountain, Pleasant Valley, Bangor, Pen Argyl, Pius X of Roseto and Pocono Catholic Missions.

Local Area

These are the team which comprise the local coverage area of both The Daily Record and WVPO.

"Just think what this would do for the patronage and the gate receipts," declared Baldwin. "All these teams are natural rivals. And, under this setup, you could still have at least two, perhaps three, exhibition games against non-league opponents."

The "natural rivals," said Baldwin, would be Stroud Union-East Stroudsburg, Pen Argyl-Bangor, Pocono Mountain-Pleasant Valley, and Pius X-Pocono Catholic.

"Not only would these eight teams be a natural against the other," Marty added, "but the longest distance between the farthest schools (Pius X to Pocono Mountain) would be only 20 miles distant."

Late Hours

On this point, he noted: "Sometimes these kids don't get home until after one o'clock in the morning during bad weather."

He also declared that such a league "would be the biggest draw (in attendance) you could have," Baldwin noted, for instance, that the largest attendance in football for Stroud

Union comes against the three teams of East Stroudsburg, Pen Argyl and Bangor.

None of those teams are in the Lehigh Valley League, which Stroud Union is a member. They are all members of the Lehigh-Northampton League.

"This is certainly something that administrators should consider," Baldwin declared.

Father William Cusick, of Pocono Catholic Missions, and John Eiler, director of athletics at East Stroudsburg State College, both strongly supported the idea.

Said Eiler: "Marty has always had some foresight that nobody else seemed to have." He also told the coaches, "I'd like to see some of your fine athletes come our way to ESSC and I know Jack (Gregory) feels the same way."

"Try to keep some of your fine athletes right here in your own area," he pleaded.

Said Father Cusick: "I feel that forming a league of this type in this area will be good. . . . The youngsters will get a chance to know each other better. . . . It's a good geographical area for such a league."

He concluded, "The reason for the league is for the betterment of the youngsters themselves."

Five of the scholastic coaches—who requested not to be named—voted for the suggestion.

It's Easy!

Just determine correctly the number of pins knocked down in each photo. Enter score and sponsor's name in the proper box below. Do not add extra frame. Strikes count 10.

FOLLOW THESE EASY RULES:

On this page are clues and pictures in the advertisements of sports-minded Pocono Area business firms. Simply determine the number of pins knocked down as a result of the action depicted in each picture. Enter that number in the corresponding box on the entry blank. Do NOT add the scores as you go along as in regular bowling. But totaled together your individual scores should equal the total score indicated. Strikes are counted as 10 and do NOT affect the score in the succeeding box. Fill in the rest of the entry blank. To the person getting the exact correct score in each box and complying with the rules will go the cash prizes.

THIS WEEK'S ENTRIES MUST BE IN THE DAILY RECORD OFFICE OR POSTMARKED NO LATER THAN THURSDAY 4 P.M.

Anyone within the circulation area of The Daily Record except employees of this newspaper and members of their families are eligible. If more than one correct solution is received the prize money will be equally divided between the winners. If no correct answers are received an additional $5.00 will be added to next week's prize money. Until a total of $50.00 is offered. Decision of the judges is final and all contestants taking part agree to accept those decisions as a condition of entry. The name of the winner and pictures will be published next Tuesday. Watch for a new bowling contest each week in The Daily Record.

Clip along dotted line and mail or bring to The Daily Record office.

BOWL

Deadline for entries is Thurs. 4 P.M.

This is Town Garage where automotive maintenance experts each day practice what they preach: "Service That Saves!"
The gentleman directing operations is Emory Lord, owner-operator of TOWN GARAGE, corner of Day & Lenox, East Stroudsburg, where major and minor automotive tune-ups go on every day

The Visualiner wheel alignment equipment shown here in the right foreground is designed to do the job right... the first time. It's the latest thing in alignment equipment... highly technical... extremely accurate!

Visualiner is scientifically operated on a beam of light and you can actually see whether your car needs steering service!

Visualiner shows you an exact graphic picture of your alignment condition. When corrections are made you know they are right. Visualiner is more accurate, enables Town Garage to do the job faster.

Mr. Lord, who is a graduate of Ferris Institute, Michigan, points out it takes only one trip to ruin a set of tires when wheels are badly out of line.

In addition of wheel alignment work, Town Garage also specializes in carburetor and ignition work. Mr. Lord, who opened his business on January 8, 1959, has had extensive experience in this field. During World War II he served four years in the Marine Corps as a carburetor and ignition specialist.

In addition to a thorough working knowledge in the automotive field, Mr. Lord has completed several training courses sponsored by Ford Motor Company and the Lincoln Institute of New Jersey.

His garage employs three full-time automotive specialists and handles a great volume of automatic transmission, complete engine overhaul and tune-up work. He also does brake adjustment and re-lining work and shock absorber installations.

Town Garage is an official State inspection station and is open six days a week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. To save unnecessary delay to the customer, most jobs are done on an appointment basis.
